MICHELANGELO DEDICATION

As a visual artist, I'm pleased to serve as Honorary Patron for the Michelangelo Movement at a time where our inner child needs to be empowered to lead by example.

Our wealth needs to be measured by what we share, not simply what we have. Like art, the beauty that we create through money is in the proverbial "eye of the beholder".

I encourage us all to pay forward our spare change and show love and give respect to our fellow neighbor.

THE MICHAELMAS INSPIRATION

In royal tradition, Michaelmas marked the start of the official court year in England. It was a time for the monarch to hold feasts, grant titles, and conduct appointments, reinforcing the monarchy's authority and connection to the community and the harvest cycle.

The Michelangelo Movement is honoring this tradition with a children's book named "The Kingly Man" that is published on Michaelmas 27 September 2024, and illustrated by our Honorary Patron, Dr. Ronald McDowell, to highlight an early chapter in diplomacy between the Harar (aka Harar Gêy and/or Gêy) Emirate and the United States of America.

THE HARAR LEGACY IN AMERICA

Michaelmas Band Bonds are a jubilee credit creation treasury system for vulnerable communities underwritten by the Yehuda=Qore Trust honoring the Harar City-State legacy from the Horn of Africa commonly also known to being City from Saints: a UNESCO World Heritage Site, City for Peace, and Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity with truth and reconcliation championing Sustainable Peace and Joy ecclesia festival commonly known by Shuwalid, Shewal Eid, and/or Shining Jubilee.

The system is inspired by the Prince of Overseers/Merchants from the Harar Emirate, His Excellency Abdullahi Ali Sadiq, that visited New York City in 1905 to invest in the US Treasury. The visit is arranged to champion the 1903 reciprocity treaty of commerce between the United States of American Political Band and Emperor Menelik II from Abyssinia that is proclaimed during Michaelmas on September 30, 1904.

HE'S A COAL-BLACK PASHA

Wants to Pray on Top of the Park Row Building This Morning Because It's Tall.

El Hadji Abdullahi Pasha, Governor of the Province of Harar, in Abyssinia, an intimate friend of Menelek, the Negus of the Abyssinians, arrived here yesterday on the White Star liner Celtic, from Liverpool. What brings el Hadji Effendi to the United States is not known, and it will not be until somebody is found who can translate a letter that he brings from Menelek to the President of the United States.

FEARS FOR SKYSCRAPERS

Rides In Subway and Prays on the Park Row Building—His Patent Leathers Hurt Him.

El Hadji Abdullahi Aly Sadik Pasha, Hakel of Harar, Abyssinia, and personal friend of King Menelek, awoke in his rooms at the Hotel Breslin soon after 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Broadway was rattling and booming beneath the windows. The Monammedan chief of Abyssinia suddenly remembered that he was not dreaming and that he had come to America to study the ways of commerce and to promote further trade and good feeling between King Menelek's merchants and "King" Theodore's.

As he got out of bed the first thing the Pasha noticed was a pair of patent leather shoes on the floor. The Hakel of Harar sighed. Alexander Tarpinian, the interpreter, came in.

NEW YORK STUNS THE HAKEL OF HARRAR

ENVOY OF KING OF ABYSSINIA, WHO BEARS GIFTS TO ROOSEVELT, HAS THE TIME OF HIS LIFE IN GOTHAM AND WEARS SHOES.

New York, Oct. 31. — The highest dignitary of all the 6,000,000 faithful worshipers of the Coptic faith in the Rhiopian kingdom is his Abyssinian highness, El-Hadji Abdullahi Aly Sadik Pasha, Hakel of Harrar, who is visiting the United States on behalf of his royal master, Menelik.

In New York he had the time of his life. He went to the top of the Park Row building, the tallest business structure in the world, and, kneeling with his face toward the east, prayed nearer to heaven than a lot of folks will ever get. The sights of a great modern city fairly stunned his highness.

He thinks that the conditions of even the most favored New Yorkers are intolerable. Riding in a the subway was like sitting in a hole, he said. The excitement of the bulls and and bears of Wall street during trading hours awed the Abyssinian dignitary.

El-Hadji's main trouble in New York was with his feet. Never before had he worn shoes until he started upon his journey to the United States to see President Roosevelt. Of course, he had to wear natnet leather shoes, and he has added a chiropodist to his suite. He wears the oriental costume on the street, but dines in conventional evening clothes. He brings a letter from King Mike Menelik to President Roosevelt, with some gifts from his royal master.

Asked for his impression of America, as seen in New York, he said:

"Hurry, hurry, hurry."

Some of the presents El-Hadji brings from his king to our president are handsome pieces of carved ivory and two stuffed tigers.

Abdullah Ali Comes Here Merely to Investigate Trade Conditions.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—An explanation of the mission of Hadji Abdullah Ali Sadick of Abyssinia is at last out. Owing to American unfamiliarity with Abyssinian he has been called an Ambassador from King Menelik. He is nothing of the sort.

Abdullah Ali is what in Abyssinia they call "Prince of Merchants." There is a bund of merchants over there, and the head of it is the Prince of Overseers. The Negus decided to send some competent person over here to investigate trade conditions, and he picked out the Prince of Overseers. Hence the presense of Ali Sadick. He is a trade commissioner, an investigato-.
